Clinic Fee Details

1. The clinic fee is paid to PGC in two instalments: The first instalment, due three weeks prior to the clinic, is 50% of the clinic fee. The second instalment, due the day of the clinic, is for the remaining clinic fee.
2. Both instalments must be paid to PGC online by the clinic host via a credit card.
3. The clinic host is responsible for collecting individual registration fees from players. PGC will not accept individual clinic payments from participating players.
4. Clinic hosts must pre-select the number of players that will participate in the clinic (i.e. 0-30, 30-60, etc), as PGC has a limited number of private clinics available and approval of a clinic will depend on the location of the clinic, the potential dates for the clinic, and the size of the clinic. The clinic host can increase the number of players at any time and the clinic fee will be adjusted accordingly.

Important Note: The pre-determined clinic fee cannot be decreased if enrollment is lower than anticipated.

Player Registration Fees

Clinic hosts choose the registration fee charged to players for the clinic (unless the team, program, or a fundraising effort is covering the cost of the clinic). We recommend charging players $25-$50 per module. The maximum registration fee that can be charged is $60 per module. The clinic can be used as a fundraiser for the school or program by charging $50-$60 per module.

Savings for Players

A standard PGC fall weekend clinic is $245 for four modules. At $25-$50 per module, your players will pay $100-$200 for the same duration of instruction. In addition, your players will not have to incur any costs for travel or accommodations.

Note: Any of your players that are PGC Lifetime Pass holders will not be charged a fee to attend the clinic. PGC Lifetime Pass holders will not be counted in the overall enrollment total.
